Abstract: This collection documents the activities of Alexander as a Representative from the 8th Essex District to the Massachusetts House of Representatives from 1979 to 1991.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The materials in this collection, which relate to Representative Alexander's legislative and committee work, cover an important period in Massachusetts economic history: the 1980s. As House Chairman of the Committee on Energy, Alexander addressed issues relating to the exploration, exploitation, and development of energy sources as well as environmental and public health issues in his district (a result of his district's close proximity to the Seabrook, New Hampshire, Nuclear Power Plant). The collection contains correspondence, notes, memoranda, lists, minutes, agendas, reports, time sheets, budgets, cherry sheets, bills, statistics, regulations, pamphlets, articles, brochures, booklets, newsletters, bulletins, speeches, constituent post card responses and log sheets, press releases, news clippings, and invitations. The collection does not include files specifically identified as constituent files.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Representative Alexander was born in Gardner, Massachusetts on June 10, 1950. He received his A.B. in 1972 from Yale University and his J.D. in 1975 from Boston University School of Law. Alexander was elected to the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1979 and served as Democratic Representative of the 8th Essex District (Marblehead, Swampscott, and Lynn: Ward 3, Precinct 4) until January, 1991. He was House Chairman of the Committee on Energy from 1985. A resident of Marblehead, Alexander also held other local political offices: Marblehead Planning Board (Chair, 1977-1978); Swampscott Town Meeting (Member, 1972-1975); and Swampscott Open Space Land Use Committee (Secretary, 1973-1974).

The Massachusetts Political Almanac (1989) identifies Representative Alexander's priorities as energy matters and environment, tax relief, and consumer legislation. In 1983, he proposed an anti-nepotism law; in 1987, he filed a bill requiring fast-food chains to reveal contents of food; in 1988, as House Chairman of the Committee on Energy, he asked the Boston Edison Co. to report on the use of insulation at the Pilgrim Nuclear Power Plant; and in 1989, Alexander proposed the tightening of state regulations on plastic six-pack rings because they posed a danger to coastal marine life and contributed to land-fill problems.

Series II. Committee on Energy, undated

Scope and Content

This series is comprised of House and Senate bills submitted by various members of the Committee. The files contain a limited amount of materials relating to the bills' submission and/or resubmission.

Arrangement

The filing arrangement is primarily numerical, with House and Senate bills often interfiled; Alexander's filing arrangement was maintained. (Note: Bills that did not pass do not carry the same number from one session to the next.)
